

The North Sea Privateers

We shall do our best to uphold the number one rule in the EMP and be excellent to all members and we shall encourage and help all that join.

The leader of the branch shall be known as “Captain.” The Captain shall and will be happy to help with any and all tasks and to answer questions anyone may have. If the Captain is unable to help they will do what they must to find the answer.

Members of the branch shall be known as “crew.” Should the crew question the Captain’s judgment, or feel the Captain is unfit to lead then the crew may call for a vote. A majority vote may replace the Captain or overrule The Captain’s decisions.

The term for Captain shall be 2 years, or longer with the crew’s assent via a majority vote.

The Captain shall appoint other leadership roles such as first mate, quartermaster, etc. as needed and according to crew availability. The Captain and first mate shall pick from among suitable candidates.

The crew originates from the North Sea dating back to the attack on Lindisfarne in 793.

Our physical location in the modern world is The docks in the Bird Sanctuary off of the Coosa River in Gadsden Al.

Our Device (Jolly Roger): A white moon with a red chain shot wrapped around it, on a black background.
